Leadership Basics and Conflict Resolution Strategies in PTA

Principles of parliamentary law are

- Justice and courtesy to all;
- Rights of the minority protected;
- Rule of the majority reflected;
- Partiality to none; and
- Consideration of one subject at a time.

Ground Rules for Meetings

- Use icebreakers or an inspiration to put attendees at ease
- Respect everyone's comments
- Speak one at a time
- Discuss ISSUES, NOT PEOPLE
- Try not to repeat
- Stay on task
- Don't take anything personally
- Agree to disagree
- Put electronic devices on silent

Qualities of an effective PTA leader

- Listens carefully. Successful leaders spend much of their time listening and gathering information.
- Makes a decision now. Not tomorrow or next week.
  Using information on hand today, a successful leader
  makes the best possible decision.
- Shares responsibility and blame with his or her coworkers for mistakes and learns from them.
- Recognizes talent and brings it forward realizing that excellent board members will be a credit to the organization.
- Knows how to nurture and develop the strengths of each board member.
- Can be counted on to follow through: when he says he will do something, he does it, and does it well.
- Gives constructive and tactful criticism that supports a board member while teaching her.
- Provides comfort and understanding personally and professionally – to board members who need it.
- Is mannerly and timely in all communications ~ verbal, written and electronic.
- Adheres to ethical behavior at all times.
- Keeps the perspective of all children and families in mind.
- Models for the board, the children, the staff and the community the behavior of a good PTA leader.
- Always says thank you and shows appreciation for the efforts of others.

Strategies to mitigate and resolve conflict within your PTA:

RECOGNIZE the conflict. Assumptions and perceptions are often at the center of a conflict.

Possible causes:

Strong differences of opinion
Misunderstanding about goals
Disagreement as to what has taken place
A feeling that members have not been respected
Personality differences

MANAGE conflict. Do not fear: Conflict can be healthy. How you deal with it makes the difference.

Conflict resolution is a process that often results in positive change and growth for individuals and the association. The key to successful conflict resolution is keeping the focus on the process and desired outcomes, not the personalities.

Handle conflict calmly
Set goals
Agree to ground rules
Agree to respect differences of opinion
Focus on the solution, not the problem

To manage conflict, protect your neutrality so that you will be seen as a fair and credible facilitator for resolution.

Steps to resolution of conflict

- Identify the problem. Have each party describe what he or she thinks the problem is and what the desired resolution would be.
- Brainstorm for solutions. You're looking for ways people can change so they can work together.
- Select three to five of the most promising alternatives
- Set priorities. The parties in conflict develop the solution and set a timeline for implementation.
- Carry out the action plan without delay.
- Set criteria to evaluate the action plan which will help bring closure to each party.
- Resolving conflict is a process. If the process breaks down at any point, stop and go through it again.

From Toolkit p. 58 Section 2.4.4a:

REMEMBER, no one expects the president to be perfect...only poised and prepared to carry through. Executive board members should know parliamentary authority — and how to apply it — to help the president handle the uncomfortable situations.
